How to finde the time of high water in most Coasts of England.

Know first, That in the fixth Columns of the Kalendar you have given the age of the Moon to every day of the Moneth throughout the years. Now, for the day whereon it is defired to know the time of High water, get the Moon's Age, and therewith enter the Table in the following Page; for, in the Columns belonging to the Place where you delire the time of High water, and directly against the Age of the Moon stands the Time of High-water for the day proposed. One Example makes all easie.

Let (therefore) the First of Fanuary (this yeare) be the day, and Lordon the place, when and where I would know the Time of Full Sea. In the fixth Column of the Kelendar, I find the Moon that day to be 27. dayes old, whereto agrees in the second Column of the following Table ob. 36! wherefore I conclude the time of High water to be that day at London, at 36 minutes after High noon. The like for any other.

Moveable Feafts, for the present year of our Redemption, 1657.

of the Epochæ, or Æræ, commonly used by Chronologers and Historians, with a brief explanation thereof.

EPocha i derived from the Verbeπέχω, which fignifies to frop, or flay; as if it were an inhibition, or Retention, whereby that which continually flitteth, is reftrained and fixed; that so from thence the Remaines may be measured.

For, whereas the Ca'estiall bodies are circumagitated by Mosions, and that Time is the measure of Motion, they must necessarily require some beginning and determinate time, from whence to be numbered, as well in Pracedentia, as in Subsequentia.

As therefore (in the confideration of Caleficial Motions) there is a certain place of Heaven described, by a Line, from which those Motions are counted; so likewise (in Time) a known and samous beginning, whence the yeares, moneths and dayes, both before and after the same, re reckoned.

This Epocha is vulgarly called the Radix, whence that which remaineth is supputated, as from a foundation and Term à quo. It is also named the Era, which word was originally (but ignorandy) taken from the Spaniards writings; afterwards, much used by Aftrologers, and at length translated to other writers. For, at the first, e Era, was not one word, but severall, which (being falfely and confusedly joyned) the Spaniards used but as one: and so at length it was also received by the Latines. For, whereas the sole delation of the Empire, on Augustus Gafar, became of bappy consequence to the Spaniards, they therefore (in Honour of him) fo provided, that the great and noble actions of their Princes and People, should be reckoned from Augustus Cafer : For example, in this manner: Alla funt hat Toleti, Galendis Martij, A.E.R.A. Caf.CGL. But, in process of time (the points being omitted, by the Negligence or Ignorance of the Registers and Publique Noraries) thole Letters were confuledly written, as one word (the first fyllable whereof was the Dipibonque AE) and had a declination affigned it.

It is likewise by some called Hers, but very corrup ly; for so the Spanish Distionary of Antonius Nebrissa, wherein it is made to fignific a Monarchy. Thus they interpret Hera Sasaris, for Monarchia Gazeris, Casar's Monarchy. So Hera Mundi, Hera Christi, Hera ordinationis Juliana; and generally any other time computed from the Beginning or Rise of an Eminent and Illustrious Nation, Religion, or Sect, is called Hera.

New, for almuch as the businesse and benefit of these Epoche or Ara, is, that the times past may thereunto be conspared and applied, as to a term presized: I have here accommodated the Reader, with the most Illustrious Epoche observed at this day, when they commence, how they agree, and may be reduced to that of our Savious (the most famous of all amongst Christians, in limiting and determining of their affaires) for that such as be rightly instructed in the principal Intervals of yeares, do best understand the differences of times, which are various, and reap far greater profit in the Histories they read.

A view of the more notable Epocha.

The Julian Period, albeit but feigned and invented by Scallger through a communical multiplication of the three Eyeles of the Sun, Moon, and Roman Indiction, uled in the Julian years, is registred among the most famous Epoche, as being she vehicubus by which we are fafely carried through a Series of years.

This Period commenceth 4713 complear yeares before the common Era of Christ, or in the 4714 inchoat before his Nas

This

Therefore the first of Jamery this yeare 1657 (Old Rile) he gins the 6370 yeare of the Julian Period, the first whereas is biflextile.

The Epochs, or & Ers of the World's Creation, falleth out in the 765 year of the Julian Period, which was Bifferile, 3949 compleat yeares before the Birth of Christ (Juna Hifferian to vitatem:)

Wherefore, the prefent yeare 1657, is the 5660 current geare of the World's & Era; Sed hae tamen incerta, & justa warias Chrod nelogorum fententias immutata. Belides.

The Greek Church numbereth from the Creation to Chills Era 5503 compleat years, and begins it in the 5509 current from the antecedent Calends of September. Therefore, in this 1657 current years of the Christian Era, beginneth the 7165 current yeare of the World, according to the Gracian account.

The Latine Church (according to Eufebine) doth reckon from the Creation to Christ's Nativity, 5199 years, counting from the Julian-vernall Moneth of March. Therefore, the prefent years of Christ 1657, is the 6856 from the Creation, which must fas I said be computed from March, for that (according to this account) the Moneths January and February belong to the years 6855.

The Jewes, Hebrews, and later Rabbins, do number from the Creation to the Nativity 3761 years, beginning their account from the first day of the Moneth Tiff, which then agreed to the eventh of Offic in the Iulian years. Therefore the present 1617 is the 5418 from the Creation, according to their account.

The Bra of the Olympiads, or the first years of the first Olympiads began in the Summer of the 3928 year of the Intern Person, in the 3174 year of the Creation. Therefore the first year of the Christian Bra agrees to the 776 Olympiad current, or the 4 year of the 194 Olympiad, which began the Summer before. Therefore the Summer of the present year 1657 begins the first year of the 609 Olympiad.

This Boocha of the Olympiads, it so called from the plains of Olympia, night to the Temple of Jupiter Olympicus, in the Countrey of Elis, not far from the City Pisa, and the River Alphens, where the cersamina ludiers, or the Olympick-Games were first instituted, by Hersules Asmenus, A.M. 2757, in honour of this Jupiter Quibus bomines Elbnici (saith my author) ad immortalium Desenon cultum, to ad vires exercendas excitati sum: the Judges therein being the Citizens of Elis. After Hersules his death these Games were discontinued for more then 400 years, and untill Prince Iphins renewed them A.M. 3174, and caused them to be celebrated every fifth year.

The Epocha of Rome's Foundation, agrees with the 3961 year of the Julian Period, April 21. (being Paliliorum & Urbk Rome Nasale Bessum) with the 3197 year from the Creation, the 3 years of the 6 Olympiad, and the 753 current years before Christ.

Therefore, the present'year 1657 April 21 (Old-Ryle) be gins the 2410 year from the Foundation of Rome.

The Epocha of Nabanne for fithe most ancient and famous of all other Astronomical Epochartook beginning with the death of that King, in the 3967 year of the Julian Period, the 3203 of the World, the first of the 8 Olympiad, the 6 of the City, and the 747 before Christ.

Therefore the prefent year 1657 July , (New-Ryle) but Sune 25 (Old-Ryle) begins the 2406 current year of Nabonnaf-

This Nabounoffer is not the fame, whom the Arabians, Hedbrews, and some fate Mathematicians, ('mongst which Andreas Argolus is one) following Alphonsus, do meerly, (I suppose,) for the similarude of the names, call Naboshodonofer, or Nebushadner.

ger King of Bebiles. For by examining the intervall of the 422 Egyptian yeares between the Empire of Nabemaffer and Alexan. der's death, with fome famous actions during that time amongs the lewes and other Nations, according to the Sacred and Prophane Histories; we shall find, that Nebochedonofor was 140 years after Nabounaffer, Belides, Functius, Bucholserus, Binsingus. Codmanne, and others, especially Reinboldus, (Tab. Prut.) b.lipved him to be the fame with Salmanaffar King of the Affriant. But Scaliger, Galvifus, Christmannus, and Origanus conclude him for either that King of Babilon, which (2 Reg. 20. 12,) is called Beledan, the Father of Berodach (or Mardochempadi; as Prolony calleth him) or elfe that King which Scaliger, by this name, calleththe fi ft in the Dynastie of the Babylonians, which revolved from Arties, (King of the Meders) and erected a news Kingdome, wherein he reckoneth twenty Kings, untill Syrus King of the Per-Fians.

The Radix or Epocha of Alexander the Great (which the Arabians call of ra Philippi) began the 4390 year of the Julian Period, the 3646 of the Creation, Nov. 12, the 425 of Nabonnassar, and the 324 current before Christ. This Epocha was used by Hipparchus, Prol. Theon Alexandrians (in Commibus 1292 2001) and Albategnius. The present year 1657, July 13, (Old Ryle) the 23 (New-Ryle) begins the 1982 year from the death of Alexander.

The Syrian, Syrogracian, Alexand can, or Chalden Exta, which the lews and the Writer of the History of the Machabes used in the Lewish affairs, began in the 4402 year of the Iulian Period, the 3638 from the Creation, the 436 of Nabouraffar, the 12 of Alexander, and the 311 before our Saviour. The present year 1657 is the 1968 current years of this Bra, but from ORDA

This Epochs is reckoned from Seleucus Nicanor (a mon potent Monarch) who ruled with great, fortitude in Spria, Chaldes, and other bordering Regions, as far as the River Indus. It is termed Alexandrean, not that it commences either from the Empire of Exit of Alexander, (for his Death precedes it above twelve yeares) but because that after the death of Alexander, the Bastern Empire became Bipartite, or divided into Asia and Spria: whence this Epocha is also called Dhilearnain, i.e. Two horned, from the Two Hornes, or Two Empires, which sprang from that one Bastern Alexandrean Empire. In 1 Mathab. I. 11, it is called the Era (or beginning) of the Kingdome of the Greeks. It is also chilled Ara Gentralium.

The Iulian Epochs, or the years wherein Julius Befor corretied the Kalchdar, began in the 45 before our Savious Incarnation, in the 468 of the Iulian Period, the 3904 of the World, the 709 of the City, and the 733 Olympiad, or the fourth year of the 183 Olympiad. When Dioelefan the Emperour had gained a great name of Prudence, and therewith to delighted and flattered himfelf, that needs he must be worshipped as a God : he commanded all the Subjeds of his Empire to observe the beginning of hisreigne, from thence to reckon their years; whereby it came to palle, that from the 184 years of Christ fin which became to the Empire) this Era called (from his name) Dioclefien, took its beginning. It is called [The Bra of Martyrs] because of the exceeding great Tyranny which he excercifed in the time of his Gos vernment against the Christians! The Sultan or Gelalasn Era, began the 1079 current year of our Redcemer, March 14, in the 448 of the Ieflagird, on the 18 day of the moneth Pharauardini or Phrurdin. The present year

This Sulean Gelal (so called by the Perfians) was Emperour of Charafan and Mefopetamia, who by the help of 8 Perfian Mathemaricians, then corrected the Kalendar of that Nation. That the Iulian year agreed not to the Sun's motion, but was greater then it should be, & by little & little (yet with a flower Progreffe then in the Egyptian year) crept forward: they invented a peculiar quantity of the year somewhat leffer then the Iulian, and a little greater then the Gregorian, but by much exceeding the Egyptian. How to reduce the yeares drawn from other Epocha, to Learn first by the Table, pag. 5. of this Book, what yeare before or after Christ, any other of the more notable Boochæ takes beginning: it being a task very easy (where the fixed solar yeares confishing of 365 dayes, 6 hours fere, are used) to reduce them to the Series of yeares respecting the Birth of our Saviour.

For, if they be drawn from an Era before that of Christ, let the number of yeares, by which such Epocha is described to happen before Christ, be substracted from the yeares of the Epocha given, and the remainer shewes what yeare of our Lord agreeth abereumo.

But when the given yeares of the Epocha proposed are lesse then the Intervall of yeares, by which it preceeds Christs Era, and so substraction cannot be made, as before; let the given yeares of the Epocha be substracted from the Intervall, and the residue will declare the current yeares thereof before Christ.

Moreover, if the given yeares be deduced from an Bra lucceeding that of Christ, then adde the intervall of this Brocha from the Radix of Christ to the yeares proposed, and the Aggregate gives the number of years from the Birth of our Saviour, ag ee able to the given yeares of the Epocha proposed.

For Example.

I defire to know, in what years of Christ the Arabian Bra commenceth, which Arzubil the Astronomer referreth to the 93a year of Dbilkarnain ?

Mow, because the Era of Dhilkarnain beginneth Anno 311, onte Christum, I subkrack 311 yeares from 933, and the remainer 622 shewes the current years after Christ, in which the Arabian Eracommenceth.

Again, I would know how many yearer the 452 of the City is before Chift ?

Here (bec uife the Era of the City falls out 753 years before Christ, which cannot be substracted from the proposed years, being getater then it) I deduct 452 from 753, and the ramainer 501, is the number of years, that the 452 of the City presented our Saylours Era.

Laftly, I demand what year of Christ corresponds to the 1273

The Dioclesian Era (as already I have told you) began Amo christ 284. Now by siding 284 (the Intervals of this Era from Christ) to 1373 (the year proposed). I finde that the aggregate 1657 is the number of yeares from the birth of our Say yiour, agreeable to the 1373 years of Dioclesian.

How to reduce the Tetracterides of the Olympiade, to the yeare of C HR 1 ST.

73 bg Now, if this summe exceed 776 (for so many yeares their Radix preceded that of Christs) deduct 776 from thence, and the residue shewes the current year of Christs. But if it be lesse, substract the same from 776, and what remaines gives you the year before Christ.

For Example

I would know, what year of Christ agrees to the first year of the 609 Olympiad ?

First, I substract 1 from 609, and there rests 600. Then I multiply 604 by 4, and the product is 2432, unto which I adde I (for the first year of the current Tetracteria) and the summe is 2422.

Laftly, I substract 776 from 2433, and the remainer 1657 (being the present year of Christ) agreeth to the proposed first yeare of the 609 O ympiad.

Once more; I would know what year of our Saviour correst foods to the 3 year of the 32 Olympiad, in which the Moon

(according to Zenophon) is faid to have been eclipfed.

First, lubstract 1 from $3, and (the remainer) 92 being multiplied by 4, produceth 368 years. To which I adde 3, the current years of the given Tetrasterid, and they make 371. Which being deducted from (because they are less then) 776, there remaines 405, which is the year of Christ, agreeable to the proposed 3 year of the 93 O ympiad.

The ule of which Table is thut,

Seek in it the number of years from Mabouneffer, which you defire to turn into Iulian : or (when you find them not precifely) the next greater.

From which number so tound, deduct the proposed years, and the remainer added to (if the time proposed be before Christ) or, if after, subfracted from the year of Christ, (which stands on the right hand the Table over against the number of Egyptie an years) leaves the year to be reckoned before or after Christ, as the Title directeth.

This done, take (In the same part of the Table) the day of the Iulian year agreeable to the first of the moneth Tath, and them divide the remainer of years (after the first inbstraction) by 4. For, if the Quette (which must ever be augmented by 1, when ought remaineth after Division, otherwise not at all) be added to that day of the Iulian year, you have the Seat of the first Bgyptian moneth Toth, in the Iulian Calendar. And (the head of Beyptian moneths agree.

For, take but (in the Canon of the Egyptian Moneihs) the elapted dayes from the head of the year, to the day proposed, and adde the same to the day of the moneth in the Julian year (unto which you have found that the first of Toth agreeth) and you have the day of the moneth in the Julian year, according to the

the year being found) 'tis quickly feen how the dayes of the Beyptian propoled.

But if the years proposed be from Alexander, and following the Egyptian Ordination; then (because there are just 424 years betwire the Bra of this King, and that of Nabonnassar) adde but 424 years to the given years from Alexander, and with the summe, as you did with that of the years from Nabonnassar, find out the corresponding day of the Iulian year; for it will be the same, with that which would be found with the years from Alexander.

Laftly, the day of the Iulian year thus gotten, you cannot be ignorant of the Gregorian; for, by adding but to the Iulian, the difference of dayes betwire them for the Century proposed, (which is presented to your view in the 12 Page of this Book) you have the day in the Gregorian.

sand For Example. Joshu ad ?

Then fin his Commentaries upon the fix Book of Ptolom's System) maketh mention of a Solar Beliple observed by him at Alexandria, in the 1112 years of Nabonnaffar, the 22 day of the Moneth Perni. Therefore, I fubirat tran from 1204, and there remaineth or yeares, which os deducted from the found years after Chrift, leaverb 264 for the current years after our Saviour.

This done, I divide the first Remainer 92 by 4 and the Quotient is 22, and nothing remaining; which added to May I, gives May 14, for the day unto which the first of Toth as priste-monera Tech, in the Latera Calendar, 2004 (

Now, feeing that from the Series of the Egyptian Moneths, 270 dayes are compleatly elapled with the Moneth Pathon, and that the proposed day is the 22 current of the following Payni, together making 2923 I adde 292 to May 24, (unto which the first of Toth answereth) and it produceth March 12. Therefore, the yeare of Chrift 365, March 1 2. Poft Chriftum in the Julian wear agreeth to the propoled time from Nabonneffar.

First, by [the Table of dayes in the Iulian years] resolve the Intervall of this Epocha, from that of Christ, into complete daves.

Next, The time proposed in the Turkish account, into dayes, by [the Table of dayes in the Turkish yeares:] For they being all collected into one summe, the same will give you the number of dayes, wherewith by [the Table of dayes in the Iulian years] you may find out the moneth and day designed from Christ,

as followerh:

Seek out in [the Table of dayes in the Iulian yeares] the number of dayes (if you finde not the same exactly) next lesser then the summe of dayes before found, and take the opposite yeares on the less band. Then from the summe of dayes first collected, substract this next lesser number, and with the remainer (if lesse then 365,) find out in [the Table of dayes in the Iulian Moneths] the moneth and day of the Iulian year; and so you will have the year, moneth, and day, from Christ, centered to the Proposed from Hegivs.

But, if the remainer exceed 365 dayes, you must therewith re-enter the Table, and thence take the next lester number of dayes (as you did before) together with the opposite yeares on the lest band; which adde to the former, so continue your work, untill there remain fewer dayes then 365, that you may collect the Iulian years as aforefaid.

To the FRIENDLY READERS.

Gentlemen,

Ere followeth a compendious Chronologie for 56 yeares last past: which (till the beginning of our late plus quam civilia Bella) I have faithfully extracted, either from the private Adversaria of some very curious Observers, or the publick Writings of others, exceedingly eminent for their performances. The rest, from the Store of my own Collections, wherein yet, I had either my own Eyes, or the joynt consent of both Parties, to warrant their Entrie.

The Impulsive to which, was no other, then have all provident Husband-men, who in planting such Trees and Fruits, as they cannot but know (by the slender stock of their nature) they shall never live to taste of, do neverthelesse reckon it Guerdon sufficient, but to think that thereby the possible they may gratific Posterity, and perhaps, therefore, have grafted on their Memories, the venerable name of Good-common-wealth's men.

For, the very All I hereby intend, is onely, an infallible, an impartiall conveyance to Posterity of the following Transactions, in their due Series of Time. By the Sanguine part Whereof, I would not be thought Dolores renovare, to fet our Wounds fresh à bleeding, but Tristium Breviarium dulce exhibere, to present you with a Sweet Summary of Britaine's bitter Calamities.

That there is a kinde of voluptuou/nesse in the rebear-Sall of past-Miseries, a Pleasure even in Miserie it felf, my own Experience bath taught me.

For, although (I know) it cannot but affect any bonest mans Heart, to reflect on the exquisite Cruelties, unheardof Rapine and Blood-shed Common to Us, All, of these macerated Nations, in fo narrow a Perio i of yeares: yet contenteth it not a little, to recollect, view, and review, as in a Mirrour, with what Providence those Judgements befell m. by what Instruments and Artifice perpetrated, with What Plots and Impieties afted : How the Sed of our Misfortunes Ebbed and Flowed with the various Shapes of Alternate Successes : How Impetu. one the Storm, how monacing bow dangerous the Waves: How unequall the Temper of best composed Spirits: How inordinate the Pulse in soundest Conflictutions: Lastly : What, and how wonderfull the Vicifitudes and Changes thence emergent. And if so, then certainly from this Bulk of Miseries, may be sucked some Honey as well as Poylon.

Besides, (if Chronologie be the Eye of History) I doubt not, but that hereafter; when by the Mosse of Time, our Scartes are overgrown, this despicable Brat may (Digito Monstrare) point at the Hands at well as Times that gave them.

Tis true, a Micro-Chronicon bath attended my Kalendar severall years together: but the na row rame therein allotted, so confined me, that when sever any New matter came to be added: more or lesse of the Old must needs be omitted; it could not be otherwise: Insomuch, that unlesse all my former Chronical-notes were still in readinesse, you should one time or other be to seek, for

What you defired moß to be informed in.

To prevent which, was the present Collection of them all, into this one portable volume; wherein you have alfo this advantage (for I presume still, it will Prodesse, a well as delectare) That whereas the Ara of all my former computations, commonly, preceded not the Commencement of the Long-Parliament; this agrees with the year 1600, soon after which the Two Crowns were united under the name of Great Britain, the lamentable Scene in this Tragedy, as the late King C H A RLES, the First that Enters.

To conclude, I declare it, That (as there are, and will be Miltakes and Defe ets in the best of Humane actions, especially in works of this nature, so) none shall more oblige me, than such, who can and will freely, by Materiall Additions, but assist me in the least; or give civil notice of any thing, that either for want of better Intelligence, or through my own, or the Printers Inadvertency, bath escaped Erronious.

D'Uchold! the Prefe hath overtook my Pen,
The Terme's at hand, and I shall wander then:
My Steed is ready [the grave Pediar's Back]
My Harbinger [his Dog] my Inne [the Pack:]
Old Erra Pater (that hoof beaten Iew)
The Sheepherds Galendar (with all the Grue Of Meny Rascalls) my Companions are:
They deign to style me Fellow traveller:
Then, Faires and Markets I must duly keep,
And (on the Stall) make up the Dirty heap.
Of Penny Wore: where the disdainfull Eye,
Pores on me Two long houres, before he Buy:
Whilst Nobles judgements, purchase at first sight,
And sweare (Implicitely) I'm Thorough Right.
Yet some (although they on me seeme to dote)
Wall not vouchsafe me ev'ry year a Goste;

Whose duller Bran, I wish, no lesse Fortere;
And Noted, twelve moneths after they are Born.
Another, his Mundangus (with me) lights,
All, save three Paget, where he wisely Writer
When's Mare took Horse; his Come sh' Imparient Bull;
O, when Himselfe, some soule Lascivious Trull.
Yet this, forbids no Entrys; only I Would not be Patter, to such Drudgerie.
Not doe I grudge the Hungry Flames a whit;
For, they consume not, they Residently throw
My injur'd Leaves; They't afte the Bible so.

But O th' Exchange! there, I indure the Rack, Such Din is made, with Whatton's Almanack! I cann'e but Bluft, for shame, when I doe meet My Name (like Small Gole) Cry'd in ev'ry Street. Howbe't, I thereon see the Bolder face, Because, like Fortune have, ev'n Ass of G. ace. And yet, some Trifling shaps Provoke me most, For, here and there, they Name me to a Post: O Cruell Hands! But that my Pasience bear's, It well Presaging, what attends their Em's: Thus Pleased, or Displeased I appeare, Servans or Slave, t'all Interests, once a yeare:

So let me paffet and when this fourty's over, I'le trie, if better Luck I can Differer.
